The real stories behind holiday home ownership

Our owners are our biggest advocates. And because everyone loves to hear a real story, we thought we'd share their ownership experiences with you. After all, they could be your new neighbours, so it would be useful for you to get to know their park faves right away.

"We love having our own holiday home, the children have space to run around and play safely. As an owner there's so much to do and our children love it. We let our caravan, it earns us a nice little bit of money. It's really good fun being an owner."

Jenny and family, owners at Perran Sands for six years

"We can leave for Berwick on the spur of the moment, open the door and we're in our own 'home from home'. It's a joy to be able to share it with other family members. It's our own holiday home by the sea, with all the privileges of being part of a community!"

Mr and Mrs Allan, owners at Berwick for three years

"It's like one big family on park. A short walk with the dog always ends up being a long one by the time you bump into all the "family". We love the freedom of having the beach and the countryside both within a five-minute walk."

Mark and Venoy, owners at Seton Sands for six years

"It's a home-from-home experience for us, an opportunity for us to spend some quality time together as a family. Whether it be for a weekend or week, it's always a welcome break from the daily routine. We have lots of fun playing mini golf with the family and taking a bike ride on the hired bikes/carts. There's lots of wildlife about and getting to feed them is fantastic, especially the chicks!"

The Brett family, owners at Wild Duck for two years

"We love the freedom to come and go whenever we like. The ability to enjoy the weather and surroundings from the comfort of our own holiday home. We've made new friends and have a great social life here."

Alan and Carol, owners at Lydstep Beach for 17 years

If you decide to go for it, we're always here to chat. After all, we've got over 50 years of experience – why let it go to waste? As everyone's personal situation is unique, we'll help you find the option that fits yours the best.

Primrose Valley Holiday Park, Yorkshire

When thinking about buying a holiday home with Haven these are the costs you need to consider.

The caravan holiday home

This will be a one-off cost and the price will depend on the model you pick and whether it's new or pre-owned.

We'll include everything you need to get started, plus have it sited and connected on your chosen pitch. You'll receive a full starter inventory pack to help you move in straight away, and essentials such as steps, smoke alarms and a TV aerial. Plus, all new holiday homes come with a five-year warranty or a two-year warranty with pre-owned models.

The annual site fees and running costs

All homes have running costs – holiday homes are no different. So what's involved?

Annual costs include site fees, (which cover your right to occupy a park, as long as you stick to the park rules) rates, water, gas, electricity and insurance. These change from year to year, but we've used our experience to come up with estimates so you can get an idea. The example is based on 2020 site fees and running costs. 2021 costs will be published shortly.

Full year's site fees From £2,945
(depending on your choice of park and caravan pitch)

Site fees cover full use of park facilities, all park maintenance, landscaping, and security.

Average water charges and non-domestic rates £591

Average gas and electric (Inclusive of availability charge) £437

Insurance (Dependent on holiday home size) From £212

Total running costs from £4,185

Let your place pay for itself

With our Simply Letting service^, your home from home can be making money being let to holiday makers any time you're not there – which can go towards site fees and running costs. You can feel reassured that we'll look after it like our very own, checking it after every visitor leaves. We'll replace any missing standard inventory, and give a free carpet and upholstery clean when needed too.

^Terms and conditions apply, please ask for more details. Not available at Far Grange, Cardigan View and Garreg Wen.

Your questions answered

We know you're bound to have questions. We want you to feel completely in the know about all the ins and outs of owning your dream holiday home. If you don't find what you're looking for, just give us a call, or speak to us online through live chat – we love to talk.

Why should I choose Haven?

All our award-winning holiday parks are on or near the coast and packed with our special brand of activities and entertainment. Our parent company, Bourne Leisure Limited, has been running holiday parks for over 50 years. We're one of the UK's leading holiday home ownership companies. So this means we're always investing more into our parks to give you a great time, all the time.

Can my friends and family visit me?

Absolutely! As an owner, you'll receive 10 Privilege Cards. So you can give your favourite people full access to all the facilities. And as we always say, 'the more, the merrier,' so if you need any extra cards, you can buy more from our Experience team.

When can I enjoy my holiday home?

Each park varies slightly in the number of months that it is open to enjoy holidays and leisure breaks. Generally, it is designed to be used between March and October, but you can check with each park for specific dates. It cannot be used as your primary residence and proof of residence will be required when you purchase.

Can I choose where my holiday home is within the park?

Of course you can. Choose your perfect plot from the list of available pitch locations to secure the ideal spot for your coastal home from home. Pitches vary to accommodate different holiday homes.

Do I own the land?

You'll be the proud owner of a holiday home, but not the land itself. Your annual fees cover your right to occupy a pitch, as long as you stick to the park rules.

What do site fees cover?

Site fees cover all of the important things that keep your dream park ship-shape. This includes on-site security, park maintenance, landscaping, rubbish collection and mowing the lawns. They also cover help from our wonderful park teams.

Any other running costs I should know about?

When you're planning to buy a holiday home, you should allow for extra costs like annual site fees, non-domestic rates, water, gas, electricity, safety tests, insurance and alarm maintenance. Also, keep in mind extras you might fancy, like preparing your holiday home for winter.

Do I have to change my holiday home every 5 or 10 years?

You should be able to enjoy your holiday home for as long as you like, you just need to take good care of it and make sure it's safe and well maintained. The initial licence period for the occupation of a pitch on the park is 12 years.

Can I feel secure that the park is safe?

We have on-park security 24 hours a day. The security team regularly patrol the park and keep an eye out for any wandering youngsters. They will also refuse entry to anyone without a valid pass. Plus we offer a Park Security Alarm system to protect your holiday home for an additional fee.

Who do I ask if I've got a question or problem?

Our Experience team are always on hand to help answer any questions you may have, big or small.

Can we bring our dog?

We love dogs. Get in touch with us for a list of the breeds we allow. And a heads-up: if you have a furry guest in your holiday home, it'll affect the letting grade if you decide to let with us. Dogs are only permitted in certain areas of Burnham-on-Sea.

What happens if I want to leave the park?

We understand circumstances can change. There are three options when selling your holiday home. Firstly, the park reserves the right of first refusal at the offer price. If you decide not to go with our offer, you can either sell to a private third party, or to a caravan trader. Alternatively you can gift your holiday home to a proven family member.

If you do decide to leave, there'll be some extra costs to consider, like disconnecting from your pitch and dismantling your veranda, if you've got one.

Is buying a holiday home a good investment?

Buying a holiday home is really a lifestyle choice. By letting with us, you can help to offset the cost of ownership. However, because resale values will reduce over time, buying a holiday home should not be seen as an investment for the purposes of yielding an income.

Do I need a deposit?

Yes, a minimum of 10% of the value of the holiday home, or £3,000 (which ever is greater) is required as a deposit.

Is finance available?

That's a definite yes. We're here to help in any way we can – that includes a range of payment options (which are subject to status).

Is there a way to help cover the running costs of my holiday home?

Our Simply Letting service means you can earn an income* for the dates you let, along with lots of extra benefits like inventory replacement, and free carpet and upholstery cleaning when needed. Alternatively, you can let privately.

*Terms and conditions apply. Ask about our Fixed or Flexi options.
